

There is entirely too much violence on TV...What a terrible example for our young children...If we continue to raise them with this violence for an example...they will grow up thinking violence is the only way to live....We Must set a better example for our young people..These are our tomorrows leaders..